

"Cities are thoroughly physical places"

"All architecture functions as a potential stimulus for movement, real or imagined."

*A building is an incitement to action,
a stage for movement and interaction.
It is one partner in dialogue with the body."*

